The picture has great historic value.

Coker, and an Union Theological Seminary, will be the presiding officer of the convention. The evening is ordered by the constitution and by-laws of the U. D. C. as one of the duties of the historical-general. No other business or functions are held on the evening, as the convention attends. Papers are written especially for the occasion. Confederate subjects only by daughters of the division in which the convention is held, this time in Virginia. The historical-general, Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, has appointed as writers Mrs. A. A. Campbell, president of the Virginia division, U. D. C., Miss Kate Maginnis, of Virginia, whose paper will be read by Mrs. Cabell Smith, of Martinsville, and Miss Nellie Cummins Preston, of Seven Mile Ford. Miss Stearns will recite a poem. Miss Robinson has appointed a chairman of the evening, Miss Helen Stockell, who will give only Confederate songs. The writers have been at work for months on their papers.

Mrs. Robinson retires from the office of historical-general at the convention in November, having served three years, and also as the first incumbent. The office was created November, 1905.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Blacksburg, Va., October 22.—In Christ Episcopal Church yesterday afternoon Miss Violet Bennett, of Fin Castle, was married to Rhodes Green Lockwood, of Blacksburg. The church was prettily decorated in cedar and rhododendron. Miss Beulah Lee Evans, a bride-to-be of the coming week, played the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" for the entrance of the bride party, and Mendelssohn's march at the end of the ceremony, which was read by Rev. CAMDEN MISS HELPED BY CARDUI

Miss Wilson Suffered for Nine Years, but Finally Obtained Relief by Taking Cardui

Camden, Miss.—"About five years ago," says Miss W. E. Wilson, of this place, "I had to undergo an operation, and after that it hurt me to stand on my feet or walk much."

I had suffered more or less with womanly troubles for more than nine years, and as soon as I commenced to take Cardui I felt better. Now I am not taking any medicine, for I don't need any."

Cardui has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. It is the grandest medicine for women that was ever made."

This remarkable letter, from a lady who has actually tried Cardui, ought surely to convince you of the genuine merit of this successful medicine, and induce you to give it a trial for your own troubles.

Cardui is the ideal remedy for all weak, suffering women, young or old. Cardui acts specifically on the womanly constitution, preventing unnecessary pain, and building up strength where it is most needed. During the past 50 years it has proven itself to be a reliable remedy for weak women. It has helped others, and should certainly help you. At all druggists. Try it.

MAY BE INDUCED TO ENTER RACE

Royal Cabell Suggested as Next Republican Gubernatorial Candidate.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Washington, October 22.—When it was announced in The Times-Dispatch several days ago that Royal Cabell, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, probably would depose Alva H. Martin as national committeeman from Virginia and take over charge of the Taft campaign in Virginia, those in Washington who are familiar with Republican politics in Virginia did not take long to come to the conclusion that the original plan of having Mr. Cabell succeed Alva H. Martin as national committeeman would fit in with the gubernatorial aspirations of the former excellently.

Last year, when it was hinted that President Taft and other Republicans would like to have Mr. Cabell make the race for Governor of the Old Dominion, and make a fight that would be worth while, Mr. Cabell did not like the story when he heard it. He would neither affirm nor deny it, but passed it off with a seductive smile. However, it was believed then that there was something in it. Mr. Cabell has made an excellent official since he left the Richmond post-office and came here, and it is undoubtedly true that President Taft will make further use of his services.

It is easy to see that if Mr. Cabell should take the place of national committeeman, manage the Taft campaign, in the event the latter receives the nomination again, and generally show good managerial ability, it will be the most natural thing for him to receive further endorsement at the hands of the administration, and it could not more effectively be done than by making it known that he would get the administration's help in the race.

Mr. Cabell would no doubt be glad to make the fight, according to what is said here, because it would give him a good boost, raise him high in the eyes of the President, and put him in line for something better in the future—possibly a Cabinet position—if the President should ever decide to give a Virginian such a place.

But Mr. Cabell will not talk about the matter, and until there is a meeting of the Virginia G. O. P. nothing can be definitely learned as to what may be done. Representative Slomp is keeping quiet concerning contacts behind the party lines, and has little to say either one way or the other. Realizing that it will be a fight to the finish to retain his seat in the House hereafter, he is saying little, contenting squarely to his own interests.

MIDDIES SOON TO WED

QUIT NAVY FOR ARMY

Explanation of Why Nine Annapolis Graduates Sought Second Lieutenantcies.

Washington, October 22.—That nine midshipmen, just graduated from the Naval Academy, and who otherwise would soon receive their commissions as ensigns, should voluntarily abandon their chances of a naval career to accept second lieutenantcies in the army, when these posts are almost going begging for lack of civilian candidates, came as a surprise last week.

It appears that there is a reasonable explanation, however, and one that does not in any way diminish the attractiveness of a sailor's life. As might be suspected, there is "a woman in the case," or rather several women, for it turns out that most of the young men who have transferred to the army are anxious to marry and to take their brides with them to the army post where they will be stationed. Of course they could marry if they remained in the navy, but in that case they would not be able to enjoy the company of their wives for periods of three years at a time, and meanwhile they would be obliged to maintain two establishments, one at home and another where the young men are not wealthy, the financial consideration is very important.

The Navy Department, though generally opposed to the resignation of midshipmen before they have received some equivalent in service for the $50,000 which is estimated each one of them costs the government to educate and train, is at present entirely willing to let these young men go into the army. This is because the graduating classes at Annapolis recently have been so large as to lead to grave apprehensions that another "surplus" or undue accumulation of officers in one grade may occur in the future.

NOT AFTER THE PLACE

Judge Gray Not Seeking Seat on the Supreme Bench.

Wilmington, Del., October 22.—Judge George Gray, of this city, judge of the United States Circuit Court, who has been suggested as a successor to the late Justice Harlan in the Supreme Court, stated that he was not after the appointment. A dispatch from Washington, in which he was mentioned for the honor, was shown him. He read it with interest and smiled. When asked if he would accept the appointment if tendered him by the President, he replied:

"I am not looking that way." Further than this he refused to discuss the matter.

Judge Gray was seventy-one years old last March. He is therefore eligible to retirement from the bench, but has given no indication that he will give up his judicial duties.

United States District Judge Edward G. Bradford, of Wilmington, is also mentioned for the appointment. He was urged by the Bar Association of Delaware to the President when the last vacancy occurred on the Supreme bench.

ROYALISTS PLAN ANOTHER ATTACK

Three Columns Prepare to Make Combined Inursion Into Portugal.

Lisbon, via the Frontier, October 22.—As time passes—and the failure of the Royalist campaign appears to be more and more certain—the people in general continue completely indifferent to the Royalist propaganda. An additional reason for their quiescent attitude has been the close active measures taken by the Portuguese government against them. During the past forty-eight hours 400 of the Royalists have been disarmed. Spain's reluctance to act against the Portuguese Royalists until lately has been due to the fact that the Portuguese Republic has been so long in securing recognition with the Spanish Republics.

The Spanish government could not approve, and therefore was inclined to let the Portuguese Republic government fight its own battles.

In spite of these obstacles, the Royalists are reported as preparing for another combined incursion into Portugal. They will be divided into three columns—450 men under Captain Couceiro, the Royalist leader, near Port Tortellomen; 800 under Camacho, near Lindoz, and 250 under Chagas, near Piteos. They will await the subsidence of the floods and the arrival of a Royalist cruiser, and, it is said, then will attack Oporto.

There is a report that Captain Couceiro has been stabbed, but no details are given. The Diario Noticia publishes a dispatch from Abrantes, eighty miles from Lisbon, to the effect that last night a band armed with rifles and revolvers was surprised by a military force in the act of tearing up the railroad tracks. The plan was to derail and attack a train. Several volleys were exchanged and the wreckers fled, leaving three dead.

It is also reported that an attack has been made on the government ammunition stores at Barcarena, but the soldiers fired upon the attacking party, who immediately disappeared.

CARDINAL CONFIRMS CLASS

In Address Extols Obedience, Temperance and Righteous Living.

Washington, October 22.—In addressing the rites of confirmation to a class of 250 girls at St. Vincent de Paul's Church here today, Cardinal Gibbons extolled the virtues of obedience, temperance and righteous living to the communicants. To-morrow Cardinal Gibbons will preside at the opening of the thirty-seventh annual convention of the Catholic Young Men's National Union, which begins a two days' session in this city.

Woman's Happiness

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasping of her child within her arms. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. But for nature's ills and discomforts nature provides remedies, and in Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is an oily emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes.

Mother's Friend is for sale at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

UNITARIANS WILL MEET THIS WEEK

Church Will Be Asked to Take Advanced Ground in Social Reforms.

Washington, October 22.—More than 1,500 Unitarians, including laymen and prominent clergy, will attend the twenty-fourth national conference of the church which convenes in this city to-morrow, for a four days' meeting. Probably the most important question that will be presented to the conference will deal with sociological problems, in which the church will be asked to take advanced ground in social reforms.

Many leaders of the church believe it should contribute its share in the present day effort at social readjustment and there will be presented a resolution embodying recommendations for the initiation and prosecution of such efforts. This question will come up at the Wednesday morning session. Another question of wide interest, for discussion, will be that of international peace, which is on the program for Tuesday evening. When the program for the conference was prepared, it was expected that President Taft, who is a member of the Unitarian Church, would speak on international peace, and it is not unlikely that the President will send a communication to the conference. Addresses at this meeting will be made by the Rev. Edward Cummins, of Boston; Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, Chicago, and Rev. William C. Gannett, of Rochester, N. Y.

At the Wednesday evening session, President C. F. Thwing, of Western Reserve University, will speak on "Religion in Education."

Reports will be presented from the various organizations of the church, including the American Unitarian Association, the Unitarian Sunday School Society, the Unitarian Temperance Society, the Unitarian People's Religious Union and the National Alliance of Unitarian Women.

On Thursday, the closing address will be delivered by Rev. S. A. Eliot, of Boston, president of the American Unitarian Association, and Rev. Minot Simons, of Cleveland, will speak on "Church Unity."

The conference will hold its sessions in Continental Memorial Hall, of the D. A. R., and will be presided over by Horace Davis, of San Francisco, president of the association.

TWO MEN BECOME FORMER SELVES

Seattle, Wash., October 22.—Curious instances of lapses of memory covering long periods, have come to light simultaneously here in the stories of two men whose minds have been cleared by illness.

George Scott, a rich lumberman of Vancouver, who supposed himself a bachelor until 1909, when he married, now suddenly remembers that twenty-six years ago he left a wife and children in Edinburgh, Scotland. The other case is that of S. Chandler Rogers, who was beaten so badly in New York four years ago that he forgot his name. He died of his wounds and has been known as George Kelly. An operation has recalled him to himself.

In all the years that Scott was piling up a fortune he seemed heart proof until a musical comedy company visited Vancouver two years ago. He then capitulated to Jane Patterson, of Allegheny, Pa., one of its members. Although their ages were far apart they lived happily. Scott finally met with an accident which fractured his skull and brought on, in addition, a serious illness, through which his wife nurses him.

Memory of his youthful domestic life came with his recovery. In telling his wife of it he said his name was always George Scott and that he never had a physical mishap or illness to explain a loss of memory. The same his mind had been utterly blank as to the wife and babies in Scotland.

Dictates Plain Course. Mrs. Scott didn't question his good faith, but said his story dictated a plain course for her, through the divorce court. They talked it out thoroughly, and it was finally arranged that she should bring action for divorce and Scott return to Scotland and learn what had become of his family. Should he find the first wife he must make proper amends to her. If she has died he will come back to Vancouver and the later Mrs. Scott will marry him again.

Rogers or Kelly was brought to the Providence Hospital here on October 19, suffering from an attack of acute insanity, with which he had been taken in his home in Port Berkeley. The doctors found that a portion of the skull was pressing on the brain. Surgery soon relieved him, and he became perfectly normal.

He called for pen and paper and wrote: "I am in hospital and all O. K." addressing the envelope to Miss Florence Daniels, 418 West Thirty-second Street, New York. A postscript to the letter asked that Father Doherty, of the Paulist Society, be sent to him.

Was Swimming in Hudson. Picking up a newspaper after he had finished his note, and seeing the date line "Seattle, October 20, 1911," he turned wonderingly to Dr. Milton G. Sturgis and his nurse and said: "Am I really in Seattle?" Then he broke down with a fit of sobbing.

He told his story when he had composed himself. The hospital staff think it is one of the most remarkable on record. For fourteen years, he said, he did not know where he had been or what he had been doing. He was born in New York in 1880 and lived with his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Doules, at 418 West Thirty-second Street, New York. His name was S. Chandler Rogers.

On May 1, 1907, with a boy friend and two girls, he went to the theatre. Having seen his girl to her home, he started to walk to his own. At Sixteenth Street and Eighth Avenue three men stopped him and asked for a match. He said he was no match factory, and the men pounced on him. One struck him with a blackjack. The next he knew he was in the river, naked and swimming.

He said he remembered clutching at something in the river and being dragged out, but that was the last he knew of himself as Rogers until he awoke in the hospital after the skull fracture had been lifted from his brain.
